"I would credit my Liberal Arts degrees and my experiences at Huron for my career in tech. Coming from a STEM-heavy environment in high school, it was a tough choice to follow my passion for the Arts. It has, however, served me well in allowing me to capitalize on my soft skills and apply them to solving problems creatively and effectively - at work and outside.

In my industry, five-year plans become obsolete the moment you make them; it is better to keep learning and taking on new challenges as they come. Studying the Liberal Arts helped me become an effective communicator who can work with different types of people and roles, and this helps me succeed in a highly technical role that I love! I am confident that this path can help other students with similar goals as well."

PROFESSORS WHO ARE INTERESTED IN YOUR STORY & INVESTED IN YOUR FUTURE

The close relationships established between Huron's students and professors distinguish our university from top-rated schools around the world, that simply cannot offer the same level of genuine engagement.

A great example of this is Dr. Neil Bradford and his creation of our Governance, Leadership & Ethics (GLE) Program and GLE Catalogue of Innovation, a research and learning tool that explores how cities work together to solve complex problems.

Professor Bradford's passion for public policy in service of the common good led him to develop a novel program in ethical governance to better prepare our students to become Leaders with Heart.

One of the student researchers who championed this initiative was Jash Kalyani. "As soon as we expressed interest in strengthening our university-community connections, Dr. Bradford provided us with all the guidance and resources we needed to incite involvement through this important conversation-starter," Jash shares.

Jash has definitely made the most of his great relationship with Dr. Bradford. The third-year student has worked with him as a paid research fellow and a volunteer. Through these one-on-one mentorship experiences, Jash cultivated an outstanding portfolio that helped him land a job as the Flex and Healthcare Coordinator at the Royal Bank of Canada.

WHAT DOES GREATER ACCESS TO ONE-ON-ONE PROFESSOR MENTORSHIP MEAN FOR YOU?

- More accessibility to your professors during & after class
- Increased flexibility to meet whenever best suits your needs
- Unrushed, focused time together where your professor can review your work & provide thoughtful feedback
- Reference letters that reflect your personal progression
- Opportunities to work with your professor on special research projects (paid and volunteer)
- The chance to fully customize courses based on your interests
- Involvement in initiatives that extend your learning beyond the classroom and look great on a graduate school application & resume (e.g. field trips, international travel, volunteer positions, conferences and more)

LEAD WITH CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

“It’s amazing to see the types of students who come to Huron and their responsiveness to doing work that actually benefits others. These young people are not just focused on doing well at school, they want to collaborate with their professors as colleagues and build things, like the GLE Catalogue, which foster social cohesion and will improve cities’ quality of life. It’s my absolute privilege to support them in any way I can to achieve their noble goals.”

SERIOUS PSYCHOLOGY STUDENTS CHOOSE HURON

WHETHER YOU WANT TO BECOME A CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGIST OR YOU WANT TO PURSUE THE COUNTLESS OTHER DOORS A PSYCHOLOGY DEGREE OPENS, HURON IS THE PLACE FOR LEARNING ABOUT THE BRAIN, MIND AND BEHAVIOUR.

The majority of undergraduate institutions only provide students with a theoretical knowledge of Psychology. Within these Psychology classes, there may be more than 100 people in a lecture hall. Students rarely get to engage directly with their professors and they are less likely to get to work in labs, develop clinical skills or produce research papers.

That's why, if you are serious about pursuing Psychology at the graduate school level or as a clinical practitioner, you will want to develop your knowledge, skills and portfolio at Huron.

"Huron's Psychology Program is amazing because it's actually applied. You create experiments, collect data, learn how to manage data and figure out which questions to ask amidst the infinite options out there. I will never forget when a student from another university took a class at Huron and they were astounded we were going to write a formalized research paper. This showed me all Psychology degrees are definitely not created equal. The one Huron provides gives you such a powerful foundation for your career."

"Psych 1100 is very different from the standard Introduction to Psychology courses you will find at other universities. It's not taught by only one instructor. Instead, a group of leading experts in their fields teach on the subjects that best align with their areas of expertise. This ensures you are receiving the right content from the right source. The lab component in this class means you get hands-on experience with collecting data, conducting experiments and writing lab reports. Lab class sizes are usually around 10-12 students. This allows for more one-on-one attention when preparing the report and conducting experiments."

ECONOMICS: THE SCIENCE OF MAKING SMART CHOICES

ECONOMICS IS ABOUT MUCH MORE THAN NUMBERS: IT'S ESSENTIAL TO OUR UNDERSTANDING OF COMPLEX ISSUES

If you want to pursue a highly rewarding and lucrative career, consider gaining the wide range of transferrable skills and essential knowledge that comes with an Economics degree.

Economics teaches you all about human decision making as it relates to resources, scarcity and abundance. From analyzing microcosmic familial decisions through to societal trends, you will gain profoundly important knowledge that will shape your personal and professional adaptability and success.

“Economics is about more than just people. It’s an enriching exploration into the social and economic trends that influence and shape one another, resulting in transformative human experiences.”

I have always believed our generation will contribute to the overall betterment of mankind, and I believe economics is where these answers will come from. With Huron’s application-based learning style, our Economics department helps you understand how trillion-dollar companies make decisions about resourcing and empowers you to model this in your own life and line of work. INTERESTED IN BUSINESS & MARKETING?

Dr. Matthew Maxwell-Smith began his undergraduate education within the Liberal Arts. Before receiving his PhD in Social Psychology, Dr. Maxwell-Smith managed and led market research studies for Fortune 500 companies. Now, he has come full circle to teach psychology-based marketing courses at Huron.

For students interested in working within the business or marketing sector, Dr. Maxwell-Smith explains how a holistic background enables you to help solve problems for people in really effective and creative ways.

“When you are interfacing with people on every side of the business, you need to be able to wear different hats and have the flexibility to adapt your solutions to every different problem you face. This is what I call the Liberal Arts mindset: the ability to think outside-the-box, consider cultural differences and balance ethical considerations with business operations.”

DR. MATTHEW MAXWELL-SMITH
Assistant Professor, BMOS

Huron's BMOS program provides a stepping-stone to post-graduate professional designations such as Chartered Professional Accountant (CPA) and Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA).

At Huron, we nurture business students who are not just out for themselves, but are looking to align their successes with the world's best interests. In the spirit of this, Dr. Maxwell-Smith's classes teach students how to make evidence-based decisions that help organizations prosper in a socially and environmentally sustainable manner.

As for the Management & Organizational Studies Department more generally? “It is made up of people who are really passionate about what we do. We care a lot about our students and ensuring they are successful,” he explains.

SKILLS THAT SEPARATE HURON BMOS GRADUATES FROM OTHER BUSINESS GRADUATES:

- Skilled negotiator
- Strategic brand storyteller
- Savvy data analyst
- Stellar communicator & relationship builder

“At Huron, you will gain so many tools that are applicable to the very foundations of business and can be directly applied in the workplace. Within your classes and through clubs and events, you will gain confidence and competence, while learning how to negotiate and network. You will also be encouraged to honour and unite diverse perspectives, which is extremely important if you want to be an effective marketer in the modern world.”

"At the Centre for Global Studies, we encourage students to create their own unique learning trajectories. WE PRIORITIZE THE HUMAN SIDE OF EDUCATION

Since 2017, Dr. Lindsay Scorgie has been taking students to Rwanda to open their eyes to the possibilities of leading abroad. During Huron's Rwanda Trip, our students visit local organizations and memorials to learn about Rwandan history, the realities of the 1994 genocide and the current peace and reconciliation efforts in the country.

"Through my teaching, I aim to expand and challenge my students' political horizons. One of the most effective ways to do this is through experiential learning. It's often difficult to understand political systems by just being in the classroom; it's so helpful to learn from the people who are actively working on and have lived the issues we're studying"

DR. LINDSAY SCORGIE,
Assistant Professor, Political Science

"International learning opportunities are important because they challenge your perspectives and broaden your understanding of the world around you. Our time in Rwanda taught us to ask questions in a meaningful and sensitive way in order to gather information for our research. The testimonies we heard made real what we learned in the classroom and articulated the very human narratives we were privileged to have shared with us."

BECOME A PRINCIPLED BUSINESS LEADER

The Ivey Business School is renowned for graduating some of the world's most highly-regarded leaders - with more than half of all Ivey alumni holding the title of Chair, President, C-Suite, Vice-President, Managing Director or Partner.

By combining your Liberal Arts degree with an Honours Business Administration (HBA) from Ivey, you will distinguish yourself as a formidable businessperson who knows how to balance empathy with effectiveness.

TO SUCCESSFULLY APPLY TO IVEY, YOU WILL NEED AN EXTENSIVE PORTFOLIO THAT REFLECTS ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE & LEADERSHIP POTENTIAL.

What type of environment do you think will foster this well-roundedness?

A highly-competitive campus where you are one of thousands vying for recognition and opportunity OR a close-knit school where you can easily access academic and career support as well as, per capita, far more avenues for community involvement than you will find anywhere else?

WHEN YOU NEED AN APPLICATION THAT SPEAKS FOR ITSELF, YOU NEED TO ATTEND A SCHOOL WHERE YOU CAN DISTINGUISH YOURSELF

Ashley Ngo's Academic Advisor helped her understand how to take advantage of the amazing opportunities presented by combining a Liberal Arts Degree with an HBA at Ivey. After learning about the importance of creating a competitive application, Ashley connected with our Career Development Centre to ensure she was set up to achieve her goal.

With resume and interview support, her Career Development Coordinator helped Ashley land multiple internships, including a position with Purpose Advisor Solutions. This support continued throughout her application process for Ivey, so Ashley was better able to showcase the opportunities that were made available through Huron's goal-oriented environment.

PER CAPITA, MORE STUDENTS FROM HURON ATTEND IVEY THAN FROM ANY OTHER INSTITUTION

"Huron prepared me extremely well to apply to and succeed at Ivey where many of the courses are challenging, highly collaborative and participation-based. Even though I arrived at Huron as a shy person, our university taught me how to use my voice and work effectively with others, while ensuring I had the space to be myself. BRIAN PORTER

President & CEO, Scotiabank
Chair, Huron's Board of Governors

"You can't just look at corporate Canada to address our lack of inclusivity: our student population needs to mirror our country's landscape. When you look around the classroom and the boardroom, they need to be diverse. Huron's vision of inclusion is in line with everything I stand for. Our President is really walking the talk, and I am excited about rolling up my sleeves to ensure people from all walks of life are part of this school's prestigious ecosystem."

WES HALL

Executive Chairman & Founder, Kingsdale Advisors
Vice-Chair, Huron's Board of Governors and CBC Dragon's Den's newest Dragon

When you come to Huron

YOU WILL ALWAYS HAVE PEOPLE IN YOUR CORNER

In second year, Joe Kannath received a call from Huron's Vice-President, University Growth and Chief of Staff, who advised him on some great potential internships. "It's really mind-blowing that Huron is the kind of place where the Vice-President and Chief of Staff is someone who advocates for you," Joe explains. "Meaghan and I have had lots of meaningful conversations. She knows about my interests and reached out to learn what kind of job I was looking for and where. I am extremely grateful to her."

As a result of Joe's great relationship with Huron's Executive Leadership Team and Career Development Centre, he was connected with an internship opportunity at Purpose Advisor Solutions, an investment company that has surpassed $10 billion in assets under management. Huron alumnus, Dave Nugent, is the Managing Partner at Purpose, and one of the reasons we've been able to secure our students spots within the ever-growing business.

The entire experience has paved the way for me to transition more smoothly into the next stage of my career."

HURON ALUMNI ACHIEVE CHART-TOPPING SUCCESS IN FINTECH

Wealthsimple, a company created by Huron associate, Michael Katchen, and nurtured by our alumnus, Dave Nugent, is on the brink of the largest-ever Canadian private tech funding: $700-million plus deal would value the bank challenger at $5-billion. With more than 1 million clients, Wealthsimple has become one of the biggest challengers to the traditional banking industry.

Both Katchen and Nugent have previously been recognized through Huron's Young Alumni awards, and we are extremely proud of their ongoing success. While Dave has since moved on to another prestigious role as the Managing Partner, Advisor Solutions, during his time as Wealthsimple's Chief Information Officer, he worked tirelessly to build an innovative brand that opened up previously untapped investment opportunities for the Millennial market.

When you look at the professional journey of Dave Nugent, you see how Huron is uniquely positioned to foster entrepreneurial ingenuity and collaborations. After graduation, Dave pursued a career in investment banking, but realized that wasn't where his passions truly lay. When his Huron classmate, Mike Katchen, reached out with an idea for a not-yet-named company, Nugent jumped at the opportunity to help get the idea off the ground. "The Huron connection is what brought us together," shares the former Huron Students' Council President. "When Mike talked about his idea, I wondered, 'Why hadn't someone done this before?'"

Dave admits people were shocked by his leap from a secure career into the unknown, but Wealthsimple's success speaks to the importance of believing in yourself, leveraging connections and taking risks – something a Huron degree readies you for. "The Liberal Arts teach you how to think and problem solve," Dave explains. "So, wherever you go in life, it prepares you well for different avenues."

INDIVIDUALIZED RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES ARE RARE AT THE UNDERGRADUATE LEVEL

At Huron, they are an everyday occurrence

HURON'S CENTRE FOR UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH LEARNING (CURL) is completely distinct within Canada's post-secondary landscape. Through this Centre, our students take part in intensive research investigation on any topic of their choice, fully supported by the professor(s) who best align with their passions.

GET PAID TO CHALLENGE THE STATUS QUO

CURL Fellowships: $1,500 fellowships are awarded each year to support students' independent research projects under the mentorship of a CURL faculty associate.

CURL Travel Bursaries: $500 bursaries are awarded each year to enable students to travel to conferences, workshops and other events around the world that foster research and career development.

CURL Conferences: The Fall Exhibition and Spring Conference offer on-campus opportunities for students to present their research in multiple formats.

Research Assistantships: Paid positions with field experts in Canada and abroad.

The recipient of a $1,500 Research Fellowship and CURL Fellow, Fernando Naranjo developed a very timely project by analyzing information about the impact of COVID-19 and SARS on supply chains. His research explores damage to world-wide industries caused by these pandemics. Fernando hopes to demonstrate the importance of supply chains for global business, as well as our daily lives, with the aim of informing future studies about mitigating these effects.

VOLUNTEERISM IS AT THE HEART OF OUR COMMUNITY

Universities are not meant to operate as separate entities from the world around them. In keeping with our determination to develop Leaders with Heart, we challenge all of our students to take part in volunteer and civic engagement opportunities.

Why is volunteerism such an important part of Huron's mission? Because giving back...

- Reinforces the values we teach
- Helps students build transferrable skills and gain work experience
- Fosters community-centredness in ways that contribute to quality of life
- Broadens students' professional and social circles to include more diverse perspectives
- Reaffirms students' responsibility to influence positive change

No matter where you come from, your experiences will be honoured & you will be encouraged to give back in ways that matter to you.

With the support of his personal Career Coordinator, Asmat applies his lived experiences and newfound innovation principles toward enhancing the employability of London youth as a volunteer with Youth Opportunities Unlimited (YOU).

In addition to taking care of the future of the Forest City, Asmat is also part of Huron's GLE task force. Within this volunteer position, he reimagines the power of policy-making and actively involves community members to address cities' most urgent problems.

"The culture Huron promotes is a collective rather than an individualistic one. The people here teach you to take a community-centred approach to everything. They encourage you to recognize the value in creating opportunities for others and will do whatever it takes to support you to advance any of your interests that have other people at the heart of them. From helping you integrate volunteerism into your Career Map to connecting you with community organizations that are in need of your support, Huron makes it easy for you to get involved."

"Through volunteerism, our students are able to follow their passions and engage in a reciprocal relationship of giving within their local and global communities. Our students not only contribute their time and skills, but also gain new perspectives and competencies along the way, allowing them to develop into effective global citizens."

ACHIEVE MORE

with advisors who respect your vision & help you reach goals you never even thought possible

Welcome to a university where you will be surrounded by high-achieving students who are not just looking for a degree, but recognize the value of an education where you learn how not what to think. At Huron, we expect a lot from our students, but we never expect you to go it alone.

HOW HURON DOES ACADEMIC ADVISING DIFFERENTLY:

- Our university combines the highest academic standards in the country with the most comprehensive support programs available within Canada's undergraduate landscape.
- From application through graduation, you will get to know your personal Academic Advisor who will walk alongside you on your university journey.
- By getting to know you, we can help shape your academic choices, as you progress, to ensure you remain fully qualified for the career you want.
- We are dedicated to a proactive approach to advising. You don't have to shyly knock on our doors for help when you are struggling: Our open and ongoing communication with students means we spot and solve potential issues.
- Instead of waiting weeks for an advising appointment, Huron's generous advisor-to-student ratio means you will be seen for the help you need as soon as you need it.
- If something comes up, take advantage of our extensive drop-in timeslots. In person or online, you will always get the one-on-one attention you deserve.

"You don't know what's possible, if you don't know what options are available to you. It's our job to help you recognize your gifts and show you how they can contribute to your success. Students who engage with our Academic Advisors, overall, have more enjoyable and explorative university experiences. Our team helps reduce anxiety surrounding tough academic choices and we will always advocate for you to reach your goals – even before you know exactly how to articulate them."

WELCOME TO THE HEART OF HURON

OUR $25 MILLION BUILDING INVESTMENT INTO STUDENTS' LEADERSHIP, ACADEMIC & EXTRACURRICULAR PURSUITS

Featured prominently on one of London's most visible streets stands our brand-new 40,000 square foot academic building and civic engagement centre. Affectionately known as the Heart of Huron, this major addition to our campus was designed with our students' leadership potential at its forefront.

What you can enjoy within the Heart of our campus:

- 450-seat theatre and civic engagement centre
- Student Activity Centre for our student-run events
- Innovative classrooms for discussion-based learning
- Welcome Centre for way-finding
- Lounge spaces for hanging out with friends

STUDENT ACTIVITY CENTRE

Make your fondest memories within Huron's Student Activity Centre (SAC). Fully-equipped with a stage and lounge area, this will be your go-to for hanging out between classes and attending great mixers, networking events and variety shows.

CLASSROOMS BUILT TO INNOVATE FOR STUDENTS WHO LOVE TO PARTICIPATE

Huron's small class sizes and intense faculty commitment define the Huron academic experience. To make sure we can keep this commitment to our students, while our university grows, we have built new learning spaces that specifically cater to our professors' interactive style of teaching.

THEATRE & CIVIC ENGAGEMENT CENTRE

See what you learn in class come to life at the podium or upon the stage within our 450-seat auditorium. Perform alongside our Dramatic Society or engage in heated debates with corporate and political figures from around the world. This space is all about creating meaningful engagement between our university and our local and global communities.

 Hellmuth Lounge

HOME IS WHERE THE heart IS

"A major focus of Huron's Residence Life is catered towards making sure the students in residence are safe, have a strong sense of community and being able to create a home away from home for them. HURON STUDENTS LIVE LARGE

The quality of our residence options is further proof that remaining selective is in the best interests of our students. Instead of packing thousands of students into high-rise buildings, we have five residences — as many as most large universities — but with a much smaller population to each house.

When you live in our residences, you always have the opportunity to be involved in events specially designed for you.

You can also take advantage of our lounges. Whether you want to watch a movie, play Ping-Pong or match off with your friends via our video game consoles, our shared student spaces are the perfect places to extend the fun of living in residence.

IT'S EASY TO MEET PEOPLE WHEN THEY LIVE RIGHT NEXT DOOR.

Connect with your peers, while developing your fundamental life skills. There are residence programs and group study sessions to build upon your ability to maintain an ideal school/life balance, healthy relationships, budgeting, nutrition, time management and more.

Our city is home to more than 400,000 people, including over 50,000 university-aged students.

With one in five citizens being born outside of Canada, London is wonderfully diverse. Community members appreciate the significant value our students contribute to our culture and economy, so they will be happy to have you visit them at their establishments — and work for their companies.

Rather than competing with a million people for the position of your dreams, take advantage of Huron's connections with London's top-rated employers to secure paid internships and prestigious careers.

"Life in London is fun! My favourite part about London is its insane amount of restaurants and cafes, especially downtown. I love exploring and finding new places to eat at. I am in my fourth year and still keep discovering the amazing food London has to offer."
