President’s Message

WE CHALLENGE STUDENTS TO BE LEADERS WITH HEART BY EQUIPPING THEM WITH ADAPTABLE SKILLS, A COMMITMENT TO SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND A DRIVE TO ADVOCATE FOR THOSE AROUND THEM. WE PREPARE OUR STUDENTS TO ADDRESS THE WORLD’S MOST COMPLEX ISSUES WITH COMPETENCE AND COMPASSION.

ARE THE LIBERAL ARTS DEAD?
HARDLY!

YOU’VE PROBABLY HEARD A LIBERAL ARTS EDUCATION HAS NO VALUE IN THE “REAL WORLD.” OR MAYBE YOU’VE BEEN ASKED, “WHAT CAN YOU DO WITH THAT KIND OF DEGREE?”

In tomorrow’s world, it’s not just the skills you have that will matter, but how you think.

Global competencies like cultural awareness, communication and adaptability will be in demand and virtually all job openings will place significant importance on judgement and decision-making.

95% of CEOs seek employees with Liberal Arts skills

THE FACTS ARE INDISPUTABLE: Liberal Arts are the strategic choice for a better career and a better life.

“IT IS A BREATH OF THINKING, COMBINED WITH MENTAL AGILITY, THAT IS THE HALLMARK OF THE TRUE LIBERAL ARTS GRADUATE. THE KINDS OF SKILLS AND THE FORM OF EDUCATION THAT ARE DELIVERED IN THE LIBERAL ARTS OFFER A TREMENDOUS PACKAGE THAT PROVIDES A FOUNDATION FOR SUCCESS AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS.”

Dr. Barry Craig
President, Huron at Western University
A MESSAGE FROM CHRISTIANNE MORRISON, President, Huron Students’ Council

The people at Huron are re-envisioning how the world should work. If you’re the type of student who asks difficult questions, approaches things differently and has the passion to act, I want you to help us shape this new vision.

Leadership with Heart is one of the most important things I will take away from Huron. When I arrived, I didn’t understand the importance of being accountable to the people and environments in which I operate. I never stopped to think, “Why is it a business’s responsibility to act ethically and why should that matter to me?”

Huron has taught me it is possible — and essential — to be empathetic while being effective.

“Trust me, if you’re energetic, imaginative and curious, you are going to find your way at Huron.”

WHY HURON? WE PROVIDE A CUSTOMIZED EXPERIENCE

HURON IS A SAFE, WELCOMING AND CLOSE-KNIT COMMUNITY WHERE YOU WON’T GET LOST IN THE CROWD. WE’RE SMALL ENOUGH TO KNOW YOUR NAME AND YOUR STORY.

Huron is just the right size to ensure faculty and staff can take the time to nurture our students’ individual gifts.

Your Student Life Team is available to advise you on everything you need to succeed in and out of the classroom, which means you won’t have to wait three weeks for an appointment. Our small campus means you get answers within minutes — not months.

Great Learning Experiences

At Huron, you are taught by professors, not teaching assistants, so your classroom experiences, from lectures to grading, will always be consistent and you’ll have the opportunity to develop meaningful relationships with people who want to positively influence your future.

Studies show you don’t learn well in lecture halls of 200 students or more. In a Huron class of 30 students, it’s easy to raise your hand, get answers to your questions, challenge your prof, debate your peers and build your ability to publicly express your opinion.

Your future is at the Heart of Huron

This spring, we began construction on a brand new Student Activity Centre (SAC) that will house a 450-seat theatre, innovative classrooms and venues for collaboration and relaxation, as well as civic engagement. We look forward to welcoming you and our broader community into this space in 2020.

Beyond the Classroom

Huron is committed to experiential learning and provides countless opportunities and one-on-one advising for every student to connect with practical, authentic experiences outside the classroom. Opportunities include community-based course learning, research, paid internships, volunteerism, travel study and more.

Community of Care

Our Student Life Team advisors will get you settled in to residence, answer all your questions and introduce you to all the services you’ll need. Our Wellness Centre provides one-on-one counselling, workshops and programs to support emotional health and wellness. We are here for you.

Part of Western

Huron is proud to be a Liberal Arts university that also offers students full privileges at a large research university. Huron’s buildings and residences are located next to the heart of the Western University campus, so you’ll have full access to all Western amenities and graduate with the same degree. At the same time, you will have exclusive access to additional paid internship, extracurricular and campus involvement opportunities that are reserved for Huron students only.

SCHOLAR’S ELECTIVES: ENRICHED LEARNING

THE SCHOLAR’S ELECTIVES PROGRAM IS DESIGNED FOR STUDENTS WITH OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC POTENTIAL WHO WANT TO ENHANCE THEIR LEARNING EXPERIENCE THROUGH ADDITIONAL FACULTY MENTORSHIP, COLLABORATION AND RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES.

TAYLOR BOYD joined the program to further explore her passion for psychology because Scholar’s Electives provides students with the flexibility to achieve unique personal and academic goals above and beyond their Honors degree coursework.

In her fourth year, Taylor received funding from Huron’s Centre for Undergraduate Research Learning (CURL) to research teaching methods for creativity among Norwegian elementary teachers.

“It was the most significant and formative experience of my undergraduate degree,” she says.

By graduation, Scholar’s Electives students will have a sophisticated understanding of diverse research methods and how to apply them, which can be instrumental in opening doors for career opportunities and graduate studies.

That was certainly true for Taylor who was accepted to Harvard University to pursue a Master’s in Education in Human Development and Psychology.

Students apply for admission to the Scholar’s Electives program prior to registration in their first year of a BA or BMOS program. Scholar’s Electives is a limited enrolment program, open to full-time students having at least a 90% admission average.

“Scholar’s Electives exposed me to works from across different areas of psychology and allowed me to engage in discussion with faculty and in independent research on a level more typical of a graduate school experience.” Taylor Boyd, Class of 2019

What really struck me was that Megan made a great effort to find a variety of possible mentors to help me narrow down my interests. I found the interviews with my mentors to be very helpful because they provided clarity about the type of work that most suits my personality and motivations in life.

Tamrah Yeaman

“I was initially hesitant to take an online course because I wasn’t sure if I would be motivated enough to complete it without class time or instruction. However, I received so much support from the Harvard team and it was easy to learn from others in the program.”

Angela Zhang, Honours Specialization in Philosophy

Second-year student Angela Zhang first heard about Harvard’s online Credential of Readiness (CoRe) program from a friend who called it “a fantastic experience.”

“As a Philosophy student, I wanted to gain some business background to enrich the Liberal Arts education I was getting, so I can pursue a career in the corporate or non-profit sectors,” she says.

The program involves three courses — Business Analytics, Economics for Managers and Financial Accounting — which can be taken in either 12-week or 17-week formats. Students work at their own speed to complete weekly modules.

Huron students have guaranteed access and full funding opportunities for the CoRe program.

Huron’s mentorship program helps students navigate these and other issues by providing career and academic advice.

“We provide junior students with the opportunity to learn and network with senior students to gain insight into academic and career processes,” says Megan Dykstra, Coordinator, Career Development. “Senior students are provided with the opportunity to receive industry-specific guidance from Huron alumni.”

Megan finds alumni mentors for students wanting to learn more about various career paths. This level of personalized support, which is extremely rare among Canadian universities, is definitive of Huron’s strategically small community.

SO MANY OPPORTUNITIES TO BE PART OF CAMPUS LIFE

IN SECONDARY SCHOOL, ZIYANA KORTADIA WAS INVOLVED IN LOTS OF ACTIVITIES SO THE TRANSITION TO A UNIVERSITY THAT SHARES HER EMPHASIS ON “HEART” WAS SEAMLESS — AND EXCITING.

“Meeting new people and creating lasting friendships is really easy here. You connect with like-minded individuals and, where you differ, you encourage each other to grow.”

Living in Hellmuth Residence made getting involved even easier. She hangs out with her Sophs, participates in Students’ Council and is the VP of the Huron Underground Dramatic Society (HUDS) for 2019-2020.

Ziyana is really enjoying her program and has taken full advantage of Huron’s affiliation with Western. “My classes have been so cool; not only do they really push me, but our partnership with Western allows me to concentrate on global gender issues by taking courses across different faculties.”

The key difference, she says, is Huron’s small yet highly engaged campus. “You genuinely get to know your professors and classmates — and beyond that, you have every possible opportunity to contribute to and benefit from our rich community spirit.”

I was over the moon. Kristen's experience had nothing to do with fetching coffee or making photocopies. I had opportunities to make meaningful contributions to our work environment and the company more broadly. I feel confident I made a real impact while I was there because I have the portfolio, feedback and newfound knowledge to prove it.

Kristen was able to pursue her curiosity about a career in marketing while supporting 3M's promotion of personal safety products.

Huron's internship program provided me with a great opportunity to build a portfolio that will distinguish me in the marketplace. My advice to students considering an internship: Go for it 100%.

PAID INTERNSHIPS: EVERY STUDENT IS GUARANTEED A PAID INTERNSHIP

CONNECT YOUR LEARNING WITH WORKPLACE EXPERIENCE AND EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

Did you know that many entry-level positions require previous work-related experience?

At Huron’s Career Development Centre, you will work one-on-one with an advisor to find the right fit — paid internships that spark your curiosity and interests while providing you with experiences to add to your resume.

Huron has an extensive group of esteemed alumni who are leading industries around the world and are eager to give back by providing our students with internship and career opportunities. This, along with our small campus, means you’re not competing with hundreds of students for internship positions. Huron students have a better chance to secure a meaningful experience.

A ROADMAP TO SUCCESS

Let’s Make a Plan

We help you build a four-year plan that integrates a variety of experiences, such as part-time paid internships on- or off-campus during the academic term, full-time industry-related internships during the summer, year-round research internships and even the opportunity to start your own summer business!

Support Along the Way

Our support goes beyond helping you secure a paid internship. Advisors check in throughout your internship to listen, problem solve, encourage and do whatever it takes to make your experience meaningful.

A Resume of Experience

By the time you graduate, you’ll have an impressive resume that makes you stand out in today’s workforce or graduate school programs.

Because Huron is a small campus, we are flexible, strategic and creative. No red tape here! We work one-on-one with our students to help you find opportunities in the industry you are most passionate about.

Paid internships are available across all of our programs.

TRANSFORM TEXTBOOK LEARNING INTO AN IMPRESSIVE PORTFOLIO

KRISTEN KODRIC ALWAYS KNEW SHE WANTED TO WORK IN BUSINESS, BUT SHE WASN’T EXACTLY CERTAIN WHAT THAT WOULD LOOK LIKE.

In her second year, she decided the best way to clarify her career aspirations was to get her hands on a real taste of corporate life. Working closely with Huron’s Career Development Coordinator, who supported her with resume-writing, interview preparation and the application process, she applied for several positions and landed a 12-month paid internship within 3M Canada’s Personal Safety Division.

“I was over the moon.”

Kristen’s experience had nothing to do with fetching coffee or making photocopies.

“I had opportunities to make meaningful contributions to our work environment and the company more broadly. I feel confident I made a real impact while I was there because I have the portfolio, feedback and newfound knowledge to prove it.”

Kristen was able to pursue her curiosity about a career in marketing while supporting 3M’s promotion of personal safety products.

“Huron’s internship program provided me with a great opportunity to build a portfolio that will distinguish me in the marketplace. My advice to students considering an internship: Go for it 100%.”

23 LEADERSHIP WITH HEART
WHEN YOUR LIFE IS FUNDAMENTALLY CHANGED BY THE COMPASSION AND GENEROSITY OF OTHERS, IT’S EASY TO RECOGNIZE THE VALUE OF GIVING BACK AND FEEL MOTIVATED TO DO THE SAME.

Thanks to the work of the World University Service of Canada (WUSC), GABRIEL NDAYISHIMIYE was able to leave the Dzaleka refugee camp in Malawi, Africa, to begin his undergrad degree at Huron.

As someone who has directly benefited from student-supported philanthropy, Gabriel recognizes volunteers are a vital component of WUSC’s life-changing vision. In this spirit, he began paying it forward as a WUSC volunteer almost immediately upon his arrival in Canada in 2016.

“I have helped new students adjust to life here by introducing them to different aspects of our culture.”

Gabriel’s role as a Community Settlement and Living Coordinator provides student refugees with a point person to turn to. He knows exactly what it’s like to leave behind everything familiar and start a new life in a foreign place.

“Volunteering with WUSC has been a great opportunity for me to advocate for a cause close to my heart — making sure post-secondary education is accessible to marginalized, stigmatized and forgotten young people from all walks of life.”

WAYS TO VOLUNTEER

Group Activities
Huron organizes several group volunteer experiences every month, reaching out to interested students. Activities have included volunteering at Family Literacy Day at the London Public Library, helping with crafts and online skills at the Boys and Girls Club, taking shifts at the Habitat for Humanity ReStore, food bank or Goodwill stores, and planting vegetables for Urban Roots London, a non-profit community garden.

Individual Experiences
Lots of students have personal areas of interest and are looking to volunteer in certain sectors. Huron’s Coordinator of Career Development will work with you one-on-one to find the right fit, including reaching out to community connections to create the perfect position for you.

Community Opportunities
Volunteer opportunities are available on a local, national and global scale and can be short or long term.

- Local non-profit organizations
- Community and neighbourhood resource centres
- National and global relief efforts
- Annual charity events
- Tutoring programs
- Volunteer and service opportunities abroad

WAYS TO VOLUNTEER

HURON IS THE ONLY UNIVERSITY IN CANADA COMMITTED TO PROVIDING EVERY STUDENT WITH OPPORTUNITIES TO EXPERIENCE THE VALUE OF CIVIC ENGAGEMENT THROUGH VOLUNTEER ACTIVITIES AND COMMUNITY SERVICE.

Volunteer experiences are unpaid opportunities where students donate their time to serve the community. They can be short-term, long-term or project-based. You can volunteer on your own or as part of a group.

Volunteering opens your eyes to diverse perspectives and issues. It fosters a sense of responsibility to others and illustrates to students — who may feel they have no real power to make change — that we can all make a difference in the world, one gift of service at a time.

RESEARCH: INVESTIGATE TOPICS THAT FASCINATE YOU

HURON IS COMMITTED TO PROVIDING STUDENTS WITH RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES BECAUSE SUPPORTING THE CREATION OF NEW KNOWLEDGE IS THE WAY TO MOVE OUR WORLD FORWARD.

With our excellent professor-to-student ratio, our students work in close partnership with faculty on research projects of their own choosing, or faculty can include students in collaborative faculty research, conferences and publications.

This helps students build an impressive portfolio, positioning our Leaders with Heart for success in post-graduate studies and the vocation of their choice.

In-course projects and research mentorships with faculty are offered in almost every department. Huron’s Centre for Undergraduate Research Learning (CURL) brings together students, faculty, staff and community partners to support highly engaging, immersive research experiences, locally and globally.

Huron students can publish their research in Liberated Arts, the university’s interdisciplinary journal for undergraduate research. The journal’s student editors also learn skills in academic publishing.

UNIQUE RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES BUILD SKILLS THAT SET YOU APART

FOR ROHAN NORONHA, ONE OF THE THINGS THAT REALLY STOOD OUT ABOUT HURON WAS THE DIVERSE OPPORTUNITIES TO CONDUCT ORIGINAL RESEARCH WITH A LEVEL OF MENTORSHIP AND COLLABORATION VERY RARELY OFFERED TO UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS AT OTHER UNIVERSITIES.

He quickly connected with Huron’s Centre for Undergraduate Research Learning (CURL) and Dr. Paul Nesbitt-Larking, an award-winning political science professor, who soon became a source of immense personal and academic support. For more than a year, Dr. Nesbitt-Larking provided ongoing guidance, from teaching Rohan how to use specialized software, to helping him define his research queries.

“I’m incredibly thankful to have him as a mentor,” says Rohan. “Dr. Nesbitt-Larking works with my individual style and puts a lot of trust in me to contribute to our shared project goals while also ensuring I have access to all the resources I need to pursue my particular research interests.”

Rohan is researching how to empower minority populations to engage with political systems and influence positive change. As part of that work, he analyzed how young people are helping rebuild their communities after the Rwandan genocide.

“Employers have been blown away by my growing research portfolio. They cannot believe the level and intensity of investigative work I’m engaging with because this just doesn’t happen at other undergraduate schools,” Rohan explains.

Our students research:
- Bullying among adolescents
- The Rwandan genocide
- History of Palestinian embroidery
- Teaching creativity in elementary school
- Economic experiences of refugees in Canada

Transforming learning through research

CURL Fellowships: $1,500 fellowships are awarded each year to support students’ independent research projects under the mentorship of a CURL faculty associate.

CURL Travel Bursaries: $500 bursaries are awarded each year to support students travelling to conferences, workshops and other events that empower research and career development.

CURL Conferences: Two opportunities to showcase your discoveries: The Fall Exhibition and Spring Conference offer off-campus opportunities for students to present their research in multiple formats.

Faculty mentoring and collaboration are available from faculty who specialize in your area of interest.

Trevor Wright

"Huron has taught me to appreciate the value of everyone's voices and the importance of listening to them. Trevor insists every young Canadian should engage in meaningful opportunities to travel, work and study abroad because there is no substitute for "seeing, smelling, living with and experiencing" different cultures, education systems and social structures.

Students get help finding and organizing travel study experiences from VALEETA BENNETT, Huron’s International Student Engagement Coordinator, who also stays in touch with them throughout their exchange.

"It's hard to understand the implications of the things you learn in class until you live them. So, when you travel abroad, you gain a completely unique perspective," Trevor explains.

"This will make you an invaluable leader because all business is global business, and organizations need people who understand how to operate within international environments."

Through a partnership with the Aga Khan University Hospital Network, Trevor Wright was able to study and work abroad in a private hospital in Kenya where he analyzed the corporate, socioeconomic and cultural systems that influence access to care.

Welcome Week

If you’re a student joining us from out of country or new to the city of London, there’s Welcome Week — a full week of activities before Orientation Week to give you time to adjust to your new city and get your bearings. We’ll greet you at the airport, help you open a bank account, go shopping for your dorm room and do some touring in the region.

International Travel Study

Huron students can go on a semester or year-long academic exchange, study at one of our partner universities in different countries and receive credit for courses taken. Huron students can also arrange travel study through Brescia University College, King’s University College or Western University, which has exchange partnerships with 135 universities in 39 nations.

The Huron Advantage

Some large universities give travel study students a phone number or email address with a promise to get back to you in two to three business days. At Huron, you’ll have your advisor’s personal cell phone number in your pocket and a guarantee there will be a person there for you no matter what.

Connect with International Students on Campus

Huron is not just committed to ensuring our students experience travel study opportunities, we also ensure that our International and Canadian students have numerous opportunities to get to know each other:

- Apps International House is newly renovated with a full kitchen, dining room, lounge, ping pong table and games room for informal interactions, international dinners, monthly cooking classes, road trips and social events.
- Weekly Conversation Cafés provide a chance for all students to meet their classmates from around the world.

DAVE NUGENT
CIO/CCO, WEALTHSIMPLE
BA, Political Science, Class of 2008

Imagine leaving a lucrative job for a company that didn’t even have a name yet. That’s exactly what Wealthsimple’s Chief Investment Officer, Dave Nugent, did when Mike Katchen, the new company’s founder and Huron associate, approached him with the idea to build a FinTech start-up that has raised over $100 million from Power Financial.

“The Huron connection is what brought us together,” says the former Huron Students’ Council President. “When Mike talked about his idea for Wealthsimple, I thought it was awesome. I wondered, ‘Why hasn’t someone done this before?’”

What type of education empowers young leaders to not just contribute to global conversations, but fundamentally transform what people are saying? Dave suggests his human-focused Huron education has a lot to do with his success. He admits it may seem unlikely that a Political Science degree would prepare you to lead a billion-dollar venture, but “The Liberal Arts teaches you how to think and problem solve. So, wherever you go in life, it prepares you well for different avenues.”

I have friends who went to universities all over Canada, and it didn’t really impact them because they were never really ‘there.’ At Huron, you have to be ‘there’ because that’s what the culture demands of you.”

JIAQI NIE
CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER GLOBAL, PRESIDENT GREATER CHINA, AT GRAVITAS ILIUM CORP.
Executive MBA, University of Cambridge, 2017; Attended Huron in 2001, majored in Economics

Jiaqi Nie’s Huron story began in 2001 when a full scholarship enabled him to take advantage of an exchange program for International students. Jiaqi had never left China before and he brought with him only $700 — for the entire year!

So how did a starving student work up to leading roles within the U.S. government and a Fortune 500 company in China? He welcomed the challenges he was faced with and ensured they shaped, rather than defeated, his entrepreneurial spirit.

“Huron taught me to think from various cultural viewpoints and fostered my ability to think analytically and share my perspectives in persuasive ways,” Jiaqi says. “Studying there was a turning point for me; it opened up my mind and provided me with a global vision, which gave me the confidence to establish the bridge between China and the Western world.”

BETH KOUDYS
LEGAL COUNSEL FOR CANADA’S DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
Honors Double Major, Political Science & Theology, Class of 2012; Master of Divinity, Class of 2014

Beth’s time at Huron, particularly in the Theology Department, helped cultivate skills that set her apart in law school and continue to support her success at the Department of Justice. “My education helped me develop significantly as a public speaker, which has assisted me greatly, both in law school and in my practice,” Beth says. “But more than that, Theology helped me think critically on my feet and interpret dense and difficult texts — all these skills have been invaluable to me as a lawyer.”

Theology might not seem like the most direct route to a legal career, but Huron faculty’s brilliant minds and unique learning environments show students how to be more ethical professionals — something, Beth argues, is essential for lawyers.

“At Huron, you gain perspective about why you should do the things that are right, just and good in the world. No matter what field you work in, this is going to help you shape it in positive ways.”

VIVEK PRABHU

“Huron brings people and perspectives from all around the world together within a safe, supportive community and close-knit campus culture. The university’s emphasis on developing more than just students’ academic excellence helped me understand how to take advantage of every single opportunity, while also staying true to my core principles.

“My time there also taught me how to ask for help when I need it and, above all else, the importance of building relationships with integrity. All these lessons have helped me succeed within Canada’s leading strategic communications consultancy firm.”

MELINDA ROGERS
DEPUTY CHAIR OF THE BOARD OF ROGERS COMMUNICATIONS
Honors BA Political Science, Class of 1993; Honorary Doctor of Divinity Recipient, 2018

Melinda Rogers is a business and community leader who demonstrates the qualities Huron hopes to inspire in its students. In addition to her role as the Chair of the Board of Rogers Communications, Melinda is the Founder of Rogers Venture Partners and has been the Vice-Chair of Rogers Control Trust since 2015.

“My ability to combine a well-rounded Liberal Arts education with a Master’s of Business has proven to be a huge advantage,” Melinda says. “Crunching numbers isn’t what contributes most to my success; it’s my capacity for looking toward the future and for understanding and influencing people that move my organizations forward.”

A true Leader with Heart, Melinda also currently serves as the Chair of the Jays Care Foundation — the award-winning philanthropic arm of the Toronto Blue Jays Baseball Club. Annually, this organization helps empower more than 65,000 kids.

When being presented with her Honorary Doctor of Divinity, Melinda reflected on the value of a Huron education: “The professors here not only fostered enriching academic experiences, but they continuously challenged me to ask complex ‘why’ questions.”
