

School closures, exam cancellations and your Huron Application

We are closely monitoring school closures and exam cancellations which are affecting many students worldwide. We understand these circumstances are causing a great deal of anxiety with students questioning if they will still meet the entrance requirements for September.

We want to assure you that disruptions outside your control will not impact your application to Huron. If your curriculum is affected by exam cancellations, please take comfort in the fact that we will continue to assess applications and extend offers of admission based on academic and test results available.

Given the sudden nature of the announcements by various schools and examination boards, we appreciate your patience as we determine how admission will be finalized. We will offer as much flexibility as possible to avoid disruption in application processing and confirmation of final admission. You can expect an email from us as early as next week, with these details and guidelines on next steps. At that time, our entire admissions team will continue to be available to personally assist you with any questions and concerns regarding admission.

Students affected by the suspension of language testing are now able to submit the Duolingo English Test (DET) as a means to demonstrate competency. Students who meet the requirement for direct admission will be retested by Western English Language Centre upon arrival on campus. Students who do not meet direct admission will be offered conditional admission based on the successful completion of our language program.

We are here to support you during these challenging times. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to reach us:
