JEWISH STUDIES

DISCOVER THE JEWISH STORY

A degree in Jewish Studies allows for the deep exploration of the diversity of Jewish cultures across time and space, an understanding of Jewish religious practices, an in-depth overview of Jewish philosophy and an introduction to Hebrew.

THE HURON ADVANTAGE

The joint program in Jewish Studies is not only one of just a handful of Jewish Studies programs in Canada, it is also completely unique. Only at Huron can you study Jewish Studies in a Liberals Arts college setting, ideally suited to the subject matter. The joint nature of the program, run by Huron but in collaboration with Western and King’s University College, allows for a rich array of course offerings for students to choose from.

Students pursuing a Major or Minor in Jewish Studies combine eligible courses at Huron, King’s and Western, exploring history, religion, language, culture, art and politics. You explore Jewish history, Biblical storytelling, ancient wisdom, the law and ethics of the Bible, and are required to take a Hebrew language course. Additional courses are then chosen from three categories: Expressions – Literature and Art; Experience – History and Social Science; and Ideas – Classical and Modern Jewish Thought.

ANNIE BOSS | YEAR 2

Jewish Studies

“The teaching I’ve experienced in this department has been nothing short of phenomenal. I was also given a great amount of freedom to pursue my interests in research for our final essay. Huron’s hallmark small class size allowed teaching to be very discussion based. This allowed for a detailed and nuanced understanding of the material and different opinions and perspectives being heard. It challenged me, opened my eyes and allowed me to find an area of personal interest I will continue to study.”
FIRST YEAR: UNLIMITED POSSIBILITIES

Your first year is all about exploration and discovery.

During this time, there are minimal required courses so you can try out a wide variety of subjects and disciplines. Learn about something completely new. Find your passion.

First-Year Courses

There are in fact no required courses in Jewish Studies in the first year, and you can enter the program in the second year provided you meet your first-year requirements with a minimum of 60% in your courses. There are, however, two first-year Jewish Studies courses you can take to get a taste of the program, both of which you can count towards the module: Jewish Studies 1250F/G, Introduction to Modern Jewish Thought and Jewish Studies 1370F/G, The Problem of Antisemitism.

INTRODUCTION TO MODERN JEWISH THOUGHT

A first-year course designed to give students the chance to sample the kind of material offered in a Jewish Studies Major or Minor. It looks at recent Jewish philosophical self-understandings and contemporary Jewish biblical scholarship dealing with moral issues such as sexuality, reproductive issues, the position of women, capital punishment and the environment.

THE PROBLEM OF ANTISEMITISM

An introductory survey of some of the forms that antisemitic ideas have taken from the time of the later Roman Empire until today, together with an examination of some responses to those ideas by philosophers, political theorists and artists.

“Ain all of my teaching I encourage my students to look past the received wisdom, to question what they know and to try to see things — a text, a problem, a set of beliefs — as though for the first time.”

JOHN HOPE, PhD
Assistant Professor, Jewish Studies

FACULTY RESEARCH EXPERTISE

The Jewish Studies Research Group brings together accomplished faculty from across disciplines and faculties at Huron, Western and King’s University College.
