MEET ONE OF OUR RBC COMMUNITY INNOVATION BOOTCAMP PARTICIPANTS

Each spring and fall, Huron will host the RBC Community Innovation Bootcamp – a completely unique event that combines key learnings about innovation with the goal of benefitting non-profit organizations. Students participate in this three-day bootcamp where they develop hands-on skills and earn an RBC Innovator Certificate. The event culminates in a competition where students make innovation pitches and have the chance to win $2,500.

“My experience at the RBC Community Innovation Bootcamp really lived up to and exceeded all my expectations. I learned so much about innovation principles, design thinking methodologies and how to apply them to problems that are affecting the people and communities I care about.
